Monday, 16 November

09:00 Online check in Time for online networking and opportunity to visit the virtual exhibition

Plenary session I – Mainstage/Venturestage

09:30 Welcome address and opening remarks * Dr Thomas Book, Executive Board, Deutsche Börse AG

10:00 Keynote speech: “After the virus: How different will the world be?”

Shorter supply chains, more debt, more government intervention and a faster dispersion of cutting-edge technologies in a more fractured world: the pandemic is reinforcing trends that had started to unfold before. How much of a difference could this make to growth, inflation and markets trends? The keynote will offer some tentative answers to these questions.

Speaker:
Dr Holger Schmieding,
Chief Economist,
Berenberg

Analysts' conferences I

10:30 6 simultaneous streams (London, Madrid, Milan, Oslo, Paris, Zurich)

12:00 Break Time for online networking and opportunity to visit the virtual exhibition

Tuesday, 17 November

08:30 Online check in Time for online networking and opportunity to visit the virtual exhibition

Plenary session III – Mainstage/Venturestage

09:00 Keynote speech: “How long will inflation remain low?”

Markets expect inflation and interest rates to remain very low for many years to come. But central bankers and finance ministers flood their economies with liquidity. How long will high unemployment caused by Corona keep inflation low?

Speaker:
Dr Jörg Krämer,
Chief Economist,
Commerzbank
